

Your My Account Dashboard

Here's what you have access to:

Current Usage

This shows how much data you have down- and uploaded since your last monthly reset. As you use more data, your account gets speed stepped as shown by the letters and "up to" speeds. Click on Speed Step Explanation for full detail on data allowances and speed steps.

Account Summary

Here you can see your regular monthly reset date as well as check your total data usage in the current month (inclusive of any top-ups) and net data usage (exclusive of any top-ups).

If you've opted for FreeZone, you will also be able to view data used under that option.

Buy Top-Up (or Reset)

You can buy individual 1 GB Top-Ups or Data Resets (depending on account type) if you have run out of data before your monthly reset date.
